

Speaker Biography:
Dr. D'Lorah Butts-Lucas
Consultant-Attorney- Minister

Equipped for her calling in ministry and the law, Dr. D'Lorah Butts-Lucas received her Juris Doctor degree from Florida State University College of Law, Master's degree in Practical Theology from Regent University, and Bachelor of Science degree from Vanderbilt University in Human & Organizational Development. Walking out this calling for over 15 years has positioned Dr. D'Lorah as an invaluable nonprofit and church business consultant and inspiring speaker.

Dr. D'Lorah's professional experience includes nonprofit management, supervision, human resources administration, and leadership roles in a private company, public school district, and private higher education institution. Her legal experience includes work in private law firms, the Florida State Court System, and her own solo practice. Throughout her practice, Dr. D'Lorah has provided corporate counsel for churches and non-profits in 25 states.

Dr. D'Lorah has been a licensed minister since 2001 and was ordained as a Reverend in March 2015. She currently serves under the leadership of Bishop Dr. Clifton and Rev. Dr. Marcia Clarke at Restoration Christian Fellowship. Over the years, she has served in various areas, to include church executive leadership and administration, youth, adult, music, altar, and jail ministries. Having ministered on four different continents, Dr. D'Lorah has had the opportunity to connect with and experience first-hand the triumphs, struggles, and diverse cultures of people around the world. With a great passion for global missions, one of the first international projects she initiated was a campaign to re-open Nyame Bekyere Christian School, a village primary school in Ghana, West Africa.
